

Estonia lithium battery portable energy storage

Overview

Where is Estonia's largest battery storage facility located?

The flagship battery storage project commenced operations on February 1, only days before cutting ties with the Russian power grid. Estonian stateowned energy company Eesti Energia has inaugurated the nation's largest battery energy storage facility at the Auvere industrial complex in Ida-Viru County.

Why are lithium-ion batteries gaining space in Estonia?

When countries are trying to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions for meeting the climate targets, the role of energy storage would be crucial. Lithium-ion batteries are also gaining space in Estonia to reduce dependence on other countries for power and to ensure a cleaner energy mix in line with its goal to build more battery parks.

Why is Estonia building a Battery Park?

Estonia has initiated construction of what will be the largest battery park in Europe that will significantly contribute to the synchronization of the Baltic power grids with Europe by 2025: this project of Evecon, Corsica Sole and Mirova will enhance the energy security and will boost renewables in Estonia.

Why is energy storage important for Estonia?

Energy storage is also critical for the ability of Estonia to achieve zeroemission levels for electricity generation by 2030.

Where will a battery energy storage system be built?

The battery energy storage system (BESS) will be built at the Auvere industrial power plant complex in Ida-Viru county and will help balance the country's grid, state-owned utility Eesti Energia said today (30 January).

What is Estonia's Auvere Bess project?

Estonia's Auvere BESS project is designed to participate in both the electricity exchange and other energy markets to ensure the security of electricity supply. According to Eesti Energia board member Kristjan Kuhi, the battery is able to respond very effectively to fluctuations in the power system.
